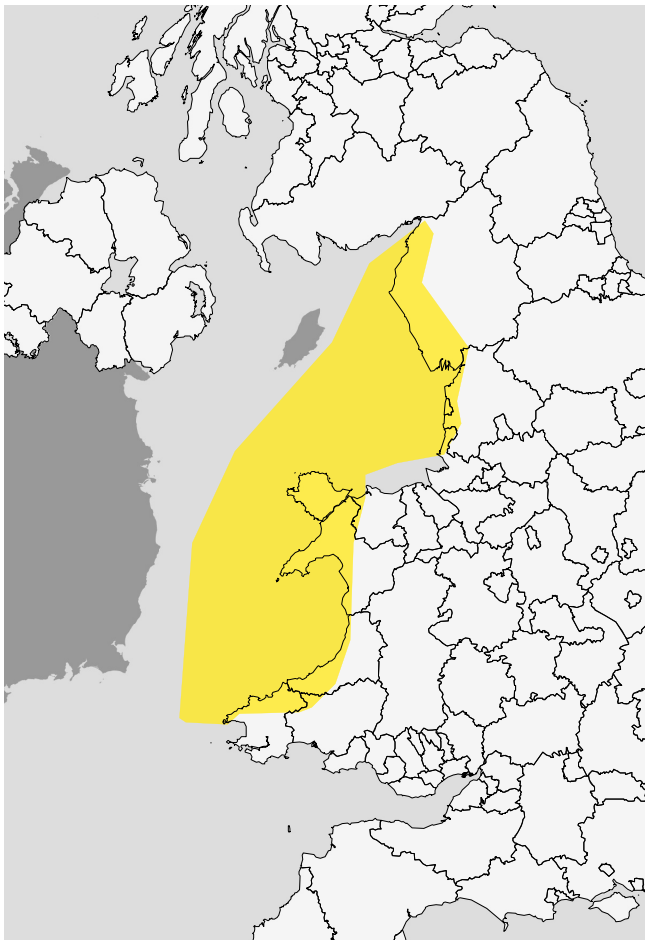
Wind

Between
16:00 Sat 15 Dec 2018 and
02:00 Sun 16 Dec 2018



Strong winds are expected around coastal parts of Wales and northwest England for a short time on Saturday evening

What to expect

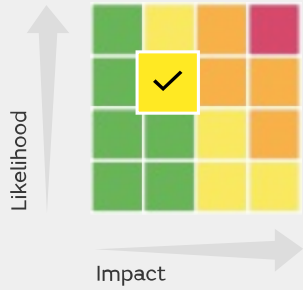
- It's likely that some coastal routes, sea fronts and coastal communities affected by spray and/or large waves
- Some short term loss of power and other services is possible
- Some delays to road and rail transport is likely, particularly on exposed routes and bridges. Air and ferry transport may also be affected.

Further details

An area of strong winds is expected to move northeastwards through the Irish Sea on Saturday evening.

55-65 mph gusts are likely along exposed coastlines of Wales and northwest England as well as isolated gusts of 70-75 mph over the most exposed headlands of Wales.

These will only last for a short time in any one place before easing from the south.



Medium likelihood of low impacts
